

Facebook Use in Romantic Relationships

Thank you for taking the time to fill out this survey. It should only take about 5-10 minutes. Your results will be completely anonymous. This survey looks at the use of Facebook in romantic relationships. If you have any questions about this research, please contact me: alisonclark@gus.pittstate.edu

1. Do you have a Facebook account?

Yes No

2. I am:

Male Female

3. I am a college:

Freshman Sophomore Junior Senior Graduate

4. I identify myself as a:

Light Facebook user Medium Facebook user Heavy Facebook user

5. How many times per day do you check Facebook?

1-3 Time(s) 4-6 Times 7-10 Times 11-15 Times 15+ Times

6. How many hours per week do you spend on Facebook?

1-5 Hour(s) 6-10 Hours 11-15 Hours 16-20 Hours 20+ Hours

Flip over to continue

The following are statements about behaviors on Facebook. Answer each item as it relates to you. Please indicate the degree to which each statement applies to you by checking the appropriate box (according to the scale below) for each item.

	Strongly Agree	Agree	Neutral	Disagree	Strongly Disagree
7. When I am romantically interested in someone, I look them up on Facebook.
8. I learn the most about a potential romantic partner by what they post on Facebook.
9. I learn the most about a potential romantic partner by what others post on their Facebook wall.
10. When I am romantically interested in someone, I look on their Facebook profile to see if they are romantically available.
11. A potential romantic partner's "likes" on Facebook are important to me when getting to know them.
12. The pictures that a potential romantic partner posts are important to me when getting to know them.
13. What other people post on a potential romantic partner's Facebook wall is important to me when getting to know them.
14. The photos that a potential romantic partner is tagged in on Facebook are important to me when getting to know them.
15. A potential romantic partner's "about me" section on Facebook is important to me when getting to know them.
16. When I meet someone I am attracted to, I look them up on Facebook when I get home.

Thank you. Please return this survey to the session facilitator.